

Summer Faculty-Led Programs

Summer 2009

Washington Experience (Director: Danielle Vinson, Political Science)

Students work in a Washington institution, conduct field work and study politics through site visits and meetings with peers and supervising faculty. Internship sites include Congressional offices, the White House, government agencies, non-profit groups, law firms and press organizations.

Contact the Political Science department for more information.

Modern Languages & Literatures in Mexico (Director: Adrian Massei, Modern Languages & Literatures)

Intensive study of Spanish language, culture, and literature for upper-level Spanish language students. Program is based in Cuernavaca, Mexico at Universidad Internacional and incorporates group visits to relevant sites.

Contact Dr. Adrian Massei for more information.

African Ecology (Director: Travis Perry, Biology)

Students engage in coursework, field demonstrations and field research in South Africa. Social and political history provide a backdrop to exploring the current state of the environment. See the program website or contact Dr. Travis Perry for more information.
