Ebola Information

In light of recent concerns about the Ebola virus Furman University Student Health has been constantly monitoring the situation.

Updates from the CDC and SC – DHEC have been provided.

Protocol/Symptoms

- We have developed a protocol for screening for and identifying any suspected cases.
- Symptoms include:
  - fever of 100.4
  - nausea
  - vomiting
  - headaches
  - joint and muscle aches
  - unexplained bleeding

AND

- Recent travel to areas of concern in West Africa
- OR exposure to blood and body fluids of a known Ebola patient

At present no university students or affiliates have been identified as traveling to or from the region since August.

The University’s response to the Ebola virus will be guided by recommendations from CDC and DHEC.
