PLACES OF INTEREST

The Furman campus is consistently recognized as one of the most beautiful in the nation and was designed by Perry, Shaw, Hepburn & Dean of Boston, Massachusetts, the firm that restored Colonial Williamsburg. The modified Colonial style of the buildings reflects Furman's illustrious tradition as the 64th oldest college in the nation while continued renovations speak to the university's commitment to progress and state-of-the-art facilities.

The Shi Institute for Sustainable Communities (■ 8)

This institute, named for Furman's 10th president, supports the study and integration of sustainability-related topics on campus as well as in the greater Greenville community.

Janie Earle Furman Rose Garden

The rose garden is named in honor of the late Janie Earle Furman, a graduate of Greenville Woman's College and wife of the late Alester G. Furman, Jr., a member of the university's founding family.

James B. Duke Library (■ 25)

At the center of the campus stands the library, a 120,000-square-foot facility named for an early 20th century North Carolina industrialist and philanthropist who included Furman in The Duke Endowment, a foundation that provides substantial annual support to the university.

Charles Ezra Daniel Memorial Chapel (■ 24)

Across from the library, the chapel provides offices for the university chaplains and is home to the Hartness Organ, a magnificent 3-manual, 42-stop instrument built by the renowned C.B. Fisk Company of Gloucester, Massachusetts.

Lake and Bell Tower (10) and Amphitheater (■ 9)

Stroll around the lake on the walking trail. Visit the Bell Tower, which houses a 60-bell carillon and is a replica of the Florentine tower on the former Furman campus in downtown Greenville. The Amphitheater nearby is a picturesque venue for performances and events.

Cherrydale Alumni House (■ 43)

At the top of the hill overlooking south campus sits Cherrydale, the university's alumni house. This 5,000-square-foot antebellum mansion was the summer home of James C. Furman, the university's first president (1859-79).

Thoreau Cabin (■ 11)

Built by Furman students, the structure is a replica of the cabin Thoreau inhabited while writing Walden. It is located in a grove of trees on the far side of the lake, about the same distance from the water as Thoreau's cabin sat from Walden Pond.

Place of Peace (■ 12)

Connect with the environment, reflect, and achieve a deep calm. The Asia Garden, water feature, and an authentic Japanese temple given to Furman by the Suzuki family of Nagoya, Japan, harmonize to create the Place of Peace.

Joseph Vaughn Plaza and place of reflection (■ 25)

Joseph Vaughn Plaza, completed in 2021, features a statue honoring Furman's first Black undergraduate student. The plaza invites reflection and celebration of those who helped to make the university more equitable and inclusive.
